Methodology Overview

CALEA serves as the premier credentialing association for public safety agencies and provides accreditation services for law enforcement organizations, public safety communication centers, public safety training academies, and campus security agencies. The standards are promulgated by a board of 21 commissioners, representing a full spectrum of public safety leadership. The assessment process includes extensive self-assessment, annual remote web-based assessments, and quadrennial site-based assessments. Additionally candidate agencies are presented to the Commission for final consideration and credentialing.

CALEA Accreditation is a voluntary process and participating public safety agencies, by involvement, have demonstrated a commitment to professionalism. The program is intended to enhance organization service capacities and effectiveness, serve as a tool for policy decisions and management, promote transparency and community trust, and establish a platform for continuous review.

CALEA Accreditation is the Gold Standard for Public Safety Agencies and represents a commitment to excellence.

Law Enforcement Accreditation

CALEA standards reflect the current thinking and experience of Law Enforcement practitioners and researchers. Major Law Enforcement associations, leading educational and training institutions, governmental agencies, as well as Law Enforcement executives internationally, acknowledge CALEA's Standards for Law Enforcement Agencies© and its Accreditation Programs as benchmarks for professional law enforcement agencies.

CALEA's Founding Organizations:

- International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP)
- Police Executive ResearchForum (PERF)
- National Sheriffs Association (NSA)
- National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE)

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER PROFILE

Janet L. Moon

Chief Janet Moon is a 30 year police veteran. Originally from Cedartown Ga, she began her career in the Army, serving as a Military Police Officer. In 1989 she went to work at the Rome Police Department where she rose through the ranks. She was the first female motor officer and led their various traffic programs for several years as a Lieutenant. She joined the Suwanee Police Department in 2001 as a Captain over the Field Operations and Communications divisions and continued to move up the ranks. As a Deputy Chief, she was instrumental in building a $1.9 million dollar, 7100 square feet, state-of-the-art police substation with a training facility. She was ready to advance her career and found that Peachtree City had many similarities to her then current, Suwanee, GA. She has eight horses, six goats and two donkeys (named Smokey and Dusty). Chief Moon is in her second year with the Peachtree City Police Department.

COMMUNITY PROFILE

The estimated population in Peachtree City is currently 35,836 with an estimate of 1,400 residents per square mile. Peachtree City's population grew 9% between 2000 and 2010, and grew an additional 2.5% between 2010 and 2015. Comparatively, the Atlanta Metro as a whole grew 24% between 2000 and 2014. While Peachtree City has a larger number of people, growth is slower with 11.5% growth between 2000 and 2015, compared to our immediate neighbor's growth at 52% in Fayetteville, 84% in Tyrone, 79% in Union City, and 155% growth in Fairburn, GA.

In so far as education, 94% or higher Peachtree City residents possess a high school education with 54% with a bachelor's degree or higher. The mean household income of a Peachtree City resident is $92,647 with a median home value of $271,700.

Regarding employment and industry, the City's ten largest firms employ about 2,500 workers. The most popular occupation for a Peachtree City resident is Transportation or Warehousing, following by Educational Services, Health Care, and then Retail trade. The top jobs available in Peachtree City include Retail, Food Services, Wholesale Trade, and Health Care. Approximately 2,500 residents live and work in Peachtree City with 13,000 commuting out of Peachtree City for employment.

AGENCY STRUCTURE AND FUNCTION

The City is governed under the City Manager-Council form of government. The Mayor and Council Members are elected at large and serve a four-year term. The Chief of Police, Janet L. Moon reports to the City Manager. On December 8, 1969, the City Council approved the Police Ordinance that created the agency. Chief Haskell Barber and Patrolman Orville Harris were sworn in and became the first members of the department. Since its inception, six individuals have served in the capacity of Chief of Police. In spite of the declining economy, the agency maintained its staffing allocation for the past three years. The agency finds itself staffed with 65 sworn officers and four administrative support personnel. Additionally, the agency employs the use of several auxiliary officers who are equivalent to citizen volunteers. The department recognizes the importance of the ability to employ the latest in investigative, patrol, and tactical technologies. As such, it has made, and is anticipating making, additional investments in the area of analytics and technology, thus ensuring the agency is equipped and prepared for the public safety demands of the twenty-first century within the financial constraints of the current economy.

During last year's cycle the department was significantly reorganized. Two new Sergeant positions were created in Community Outreach and Training. Under Community Outreach, includes the responsibilities of the School Resource Officers and Auxiliary Police. Recently the department promoted the sole Captain to the rank of Assistant Chief. The responsibility of managing Code Enforcement was returned to the responsibility of the City's building department during last year's cycle, but plans are in place for the cross training of our police officers in more Code Enforcement related functions. The promotional system was revised to be inclusive of the tremendous increase in the hiring of highly qualified lateral transfers from other agencies resulting in several promotions in last year's cycle. During the first quarter of 2018, the department is expected to revise the career development (succession) plan along with adding a layer of supervision by adding a Corporal rank.

The Patrol Division is the largest component of the Peachtree City Police Department, and provides the basic police service of preserving the peace and protecting the lives and properties of others. The Patrol Division is divided into four teams, each led by a Sergeant with two teams lead by a Lieutenant. The Criminal Investigation's, Support Services, and Administrative Service's division are all led by Lieutenants'.

AGENCY SUCCESSES

Community Involvement and Community Outreach:

The agency has further expanded our successful My Community Officer program in this assessment cycle where officers are assigned to one of the 171 neighborhoods for direct contact with the citizens. Our Community Outreach Events have increased from 121 events in 2014 to 1266 events, or a 946% increase into 2016. The agency was recognized by the Georgia Association of Chief's of Police for the My Community Officer program in 2017.

Traffic Safety:

Our traffic safety programs continue to receive State and National recognition. One of our Lieutenant's is on the IACP Highway Safety Committee. Another Lieutenant has been asked to judge and score other agency's state and national traffic safety challenge applications. This year the department was successful by score first place for our agency size for the Georgia Governor's Office of Highway Safety Law Enforcement Challenge. The challenge evaluates the agency's success in traffic safety planning, approach, and effectiveness according to the best industry standards.

In-House Practical Training Exercises:

Our cadre of experienced instructors has provided the department with a unique opportunity to allow for over 90% of our training requirements to be practical in nature as opposed to lecture. The review and testing on the applicable written directive and resource information is accomplished through PowerDMS allowing for more opportunities for officers to demonstrate and practice their law enforcement skills. An added success of our practical training programs is that they are accomplished on duty eliminating excessive overtime costs.

Training Programs:

We have continued our on-demand practical exercise training programs into 2017 with on-demand practical driving exercises and on-demand firearm's training. "On-demand" training involves giving officers no notice of driving and firearm's classes to allow for an excellent practical exercise training experience. Our driver training program, and practical exercise programs for vehicle pursuit and use of force, were recognized by the Georgia Municipal Association Local Government Risk Management for being one of the best practices in risk management training in Georgia. Avoidable collisions have decreased from 31 in 2013, to 13 in 2016, and only 13 in 2017 to date. External complaints against officers for reckless driving behavior have decreased from 27 in 2014 to only 12 in 2016.

Social Media Outreach:

The department continues to receive accolades on our continued transparency on department activities. From 700 followers in 2012 to approaching 19,000 to date. The department has added two administrators from each division to further expand on our social media outreach with our community during this assessment cycle.

Recruitment / Retention:

During the 3rd quarter, and into the 4th quarter of this assessment cycle, the department has been fully staffed. The demographics of our department are almost identical to the demographics of our community. Over 40% of the 117 applications received in 2016 were from members of a protected class with 33% of those applicants selected for employment.

Career Development / Succession Planning:

The department has made great efforts in this assessment cycle to revise our current career development succession planning program. It is expected in the first quarter of 2018 to have a new system along with another layer of supervision for more career advancement and development of our supervisors.

Identity Theft Investigations:

A procedural change was made during this cycle to refer out of jurisdiction fraud cases to the Federal Trade Commissions. Investigators found that the FTC was the best agency to manage fraud reports as they provide a lot more resources. This has resulted in a 73% reduction of 140 cases that required fraud investigation saving hundreds of investigative hours worked.

CRITICAL ISSUES FOR AGENCY

Police Department Facility:

Due to our increased community outreach efforts the department's meeting room accessibility is limited. Planning for a "community room" with access outside of the police facility is currently being evaluated.

Communications:

Our current radio system is frequently inadequate with limited reception due to new infrastructure requirements. A new radio system is being considered with a possible 5 year window for implementation.

Video Technology:

Currently expanding our video technology with body cameras. Policy development and infrastructure enhancements are currently being developed.

NIBERS/UCR Reporting:

Our current record's management system (Spillman) will face challenges as the department transitions to NIBERS/UCR reporting requirements in the first quarter of 2018.

Retention / Recruitment:

The agency has realized tremendous success over the past 5 years with recruiting and retaining highly qualified and diverse officers to the department. We are currently one of a very few agencies in the State of Georgia fully staffed for the past two quarters in 2017. The city has modified the lateral pay incentive program which may limit the agency's ability to recruit highly qualified lateral transfer officers to the agency in the future.

Reaccreditation Year 2 Notes:

To put these numbers in a different perspective there were 773 arrests, and approximately 12,296 traffic stops in 2016. Using the total contacts between police/citizens, in only .8% of all police/citizen encounters during an arrest. and only .1% of all police/citizen encounters during a traffic stop, did a citizen initiate a need by an officer to use force to affect an arrest.

The agency was involved in its first officer involved shooting during this cycle in 2017. The officer has already been cleared by the District Attorney's Office as justified.

The Peachtree City Police Department began collecting "display" of a weapon data in January 2017. During next year's cycle, those numbers will be reported.
